DETAILED ACTION

Response to Arguments

1. Applicant's arguments filed 6/2/05 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. In reference to coincidental nesting, Miyazaki et al. teach an MRI system with an interleaved mode of nesting (col. 14 lines 41-67, col. 15 lines 1-10).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. Claims 1-33 and 35-36 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Dumoulin (6198282) in view of Miyazaki et al. (6320377). Dumoulin '282 teaches: the use of area in determining amplitude and slew rate, which is used to determine pulse length (Dumoulin '282 col. 8, lines 30-38, col. 7, lines 1-4, and col. 8, lines 30-48); that when the gradient amplifier must make an amplitude gradient pulse having an area greater than that of the largest triangular pulse, the gradient pulse with optimal duration becomes a trapezoid (Dumoulin '282 col. 2, lines 43-46), and the use of a CPU and a system control (Dumoulin '282 col. 6, lines 61-67 - it would have been obvious to one skilled in the art at the time the invention was made to use a program to control the timing of MRI pulses, especially since most MRI gradient pulses are only microseconds in length). Dumoulin does not explicitly teach the use of nested pulses or multiple sequences. Miyazaki et al. '377 teaches the use of nested pulses and multiple pulse sequences (Miyazaki et al. '377 col. 14 lines 41-67, col. 15 lines 1-10) in a MRI system for fast FLAIR sequencing which achieves the same end result as the applicant. It would have been obvious to one skilled in the art at the time the invention was made to combine Dumoulin '282 with Miyazaki et al. '377 in order to create a physiologically sensitive fast scan MRI system (Miyazaki et al. '377 col. 13, lines 41-47).

Conclusion

4. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
